for
Bones for Life[®]
Teachers, Trainers, and Student Teachers

Bones for Life[®] is a certificate program that stimulates bone strength by cultivating intelligent weight-bearing posture and movement. Certified Bones for Life[®] Teachers and Trainers, as well as those applying for certification, will:

- Aspire to the highest standards of professional expertise and practice
- Always act in the best interest of the student and profession
- Treat all students professionally, with respect and dignity
- Conduct themselves in a manner that promotes public trust and confidence, enhances the reputation of the profession, and protects the safety of each student
- Acknowledge the limitations of, and safety adaptations for, Bones for Life[®] and refer students to appropriate health professionals when necessary
- Represent their qualifications honestly, including education and professional affiliations, and only provide services they are qualified to perform
- Accurately inform students, other health care practitioners, and the public about the scope and limitations of their discipline
- Maintain confidentiality of client information
- Maintain professional boundaries and refrain from engaging in any inappropriate sexual conduct with students
